Donna Rasgorshek Captures Top Place In Annual Tomahawk Beauty Contest

Blonde, attractive Donna Rasgorshek walked off with the top place in the annual Tomahawk Beauty Queen contest Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium. The 5' 7" junior placed ahead of second and third place winners, freshman Janice Peters and junior Ann McTaggart, respectively.

Runners in the contest were Marcia Johnson and Shirley Dall. Judging the contest were Mrs. Emma Gibbs, former Ak-Sar-Ben Queen and bridal consultant at Thomas Kilpatrick Co.; Alfred Stern, chairman of the Omaha Centennial celebration, and Kenneth Willmarth, Jr., commercial artist and co-partner in Willmarth Artists, Inc.

Following the contest, Stern announced that Miss Rasgorshek will model the coiffure of the year which centennial planners will select. Her picture and hair style will be distributed throughout the city.

Donna was presented a bouquet of red roses, donated by the Dundee Flower shop, by last year's beauty queen, Patricia Kavan.

The thirty-one contestants were revealed through a modernistic stage setting of blue and green. The scenery, designed by Elaine Jones, was in keeping with the Christmas theme.

Jo Thorson was over-all chairman of the contest. She was assisted by Anita Reznichuk, Derelle Blumer, Patricia Kavan, Maggie Claeson, and Miss Jones.

Master of ceremonies was Dale Kadavy. Incidental music was furnished during the competition by Jack Irwin. Intermission entertainment, while the judges tabulated scores, was furnished by a Kidd-Irwin combo.

Three Part Story

The one hundred voice University Choral Union, comprised of the University Choir and the College of Adult Education Choir, will perform Part I and portions of Part II, the story of the crucifixion and resurrection, and Part III, the story of the ascension and glorification, at 8:15 p. m. tonight in the auditorium. The public is admitted free of charge.

The oratorio portrays the complete life of Christ in three parts. Written in 1741, and following its first performance in Dublin, Ireland, in April, 1742, it has become one of the most oft-performed works of its kind. Hallelujah Chorus

The magnificent "Hallelujah" Chorus will climax this morning's performance. Following a custom begun by King George II of England, the entire audience is to stand during this final number.

The University Choir presented the oratorio Sunday at the First Methodist Church in Louisville, Nebraska.

Other officers include Rod Conser, first vice-president; Maynard Tatelman, second vice-president; Dick Browning, secretary; Chuck French, alumni secretary; Jack Frost, social chairman and Ted Coffie, treasurer.

The new officers will be initiated at the Founder's Day Banquet which will be held during vacation. The term of office runs from January to April.

The dates of the Sectional APO Convention have been changed to Dec. 28 and 29. About 125 APO delegates are expected at the Convention at Offutt Air Force Base, according to Chuck French, president.

Post Gives Report

Duane Post, IFC president, returned last week from Cincinnati, O., where he attended the National Interfraternity Conference. The conference topic was "Fraternity Autonomy," the right of each fraternity to determine its own membership and qualifications.

During his trip, Post inspected the Student Union of the municipally supported University of Cincinnati and also the Student Union at Washington University in St. Louis. A report of his findings was submitted at the Student Union Planning Committee meeting Tuesday.

Post also visited the National Headquarters of the Arnold Air Society in Cincinnati. The Arnold Air Society National Conclave will be held in Omaha this spring.

Indians Romp Doane, 71-42, Split Two Overtime Contests

By Bob Peck

After dividing two overtime thrillers and romping over Doane, Omaha University eagles own a 4-1 record to date.

Last Tuesday night the Indians put on a masterful exhibition of bad shooting, bungling and wild passing. Nevertheless, the Omahans rolled up a one-sided 71-42 win over an offensively impotent Doane five.

Omaha U came out of the early game milling with a slight lead and were never headed. At the quarter, they had a total of 11 points. This is one point more than North High scored in its first quarter of the preliminary game in which the quarters were two minutes shorter. North won its game over Boys Town 44-33.

Most of the extra fans the high school tilt brought to the Fieldhouse left after one quarter of watching ragged college play.

The Indians didn't improve any the second period and at the half even some of the Omaha U faithful headed for the exits.

Reserves Ramble

When the Indian starters continued to fumble in the first half, Coach Virgil Yelkin ran in a second five which immediately ran up the score.

The sub team consisted of Tom Mosiman, John Morse, Bill Petrick, Gary Whiteman and Don Hansen. Although this combination didn't use any plays or patterns they used their hustle and ran their taller opponents off the floor.

Omaha led at halftime 28-18 and exploded the second half for 43 points.

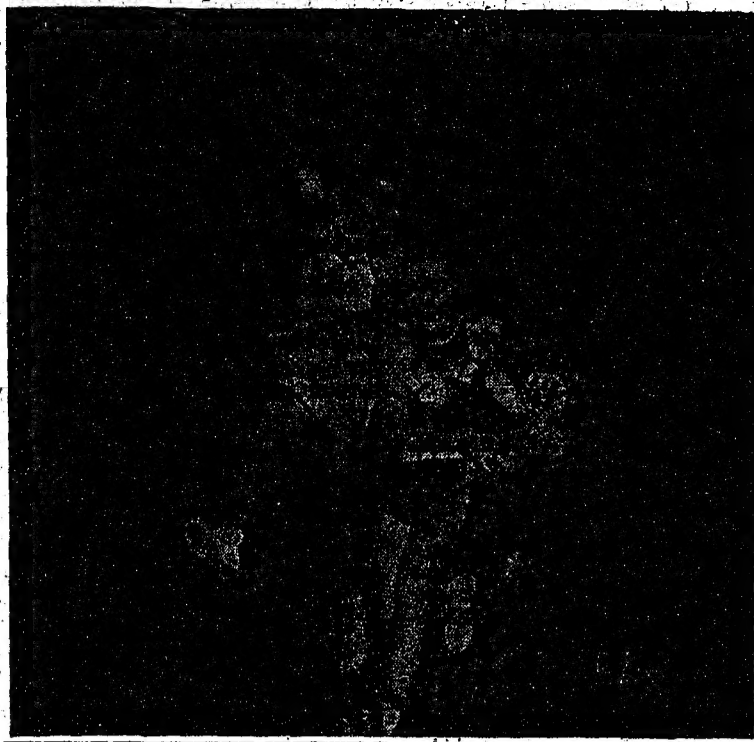

The dull showing of the OU five can partly be attributed to the fact that Coach Yelkin was experimenting with new offenses and combinations.

However, it was the general consensus of the crowd that Yelkin should do his experimenting in practice and not waste the fans' time and money.

Moscrey Hits It

One bright spot of the Doane encounter was the play of Guard Bob Moscrey. Moscrey usually is contented with the play-maker's roll, but against the Tigers he cut loose with 11 counters.

Don Claussen (54) scores on layup in 57-51 loss to Drake. He finished with 24 points.

Last Friday night it was again sloppy play exhibited by the Indians which resulted in an overtime loss to Drake University, 57-51.

Omaha had control of the game over their favored opponents until late in the fourth quarter when the Indians' bad play finally caught up with them.

Don Claussen and Fred Shinrock kept the Omahans in the game and finally forced it into an overtime, but Drake dunked nine free throws in the extra stanza to kill OU hopes.

Omaha came out on top in a see-saw overtime contest with Wayne State Teachers Dec. 2.

Again it was Center Claussen who supplied the offensive punch, and it was his hook shot with 1:20 left in the overtime which gave Omaha a 66-65 lead.

Omaha then stalled out the game for the victory.

Omahans To Meet South Dakota State in Saturday Night Encounter

Another tough test faces the Indian basketball squad this weekend when South Dakota State from Brookings moves into the Fieldhouse tomorrow night at 8 p. m.

Coach R. B. "Jack" Frost of the Jackrabbits presents a tall five led by 6-4 Bob Ehrke, an all-North Central Conference choice last year. Other top South Dakotans are 6-4 Floyd Sluiter and 6-0 Bob Hanson.

'Mural Cage Teams Begin Court Action

Intramural basketball got off to a flying start last week. Six games were played in what appears to be one of the best balanced leagues in a long time.

Sigma Phi Epsilon opened the season by downing the PE Majors 28 to 22, in a tight defensive battle. Pi KA edged Lambda Chi, 37 to 35. Bernie Lainsen potted 19 points for the losers. Bill Steck made 10 points for the victors.

Theta Chi, showing a tight defense, easily rolled to a 38 to 14 victory over the new fraternity Phi Beta Chi. Don Maseman led Theta Chi with 16 points. The Pawnees won on forfeit from ISA, and then took a close 29 to 23 decision over ROTC. Paul Stella made four straight baskets for the victors and broke the 22-22 tie.

Pi KA rolled to a 51 to 17 victory over ISA for their second straight victory in intramural play. Kyle Pettit was leading point man for the Pikes with 10.

ISA held onto first place in intramural bowling last Thursday by taking two out of three games from second place Lambda Chi Alpha. Sigma Phi Epsilon took two out of three from Theta Chi and knocked them out of first place in the intra-fraternity league. The Sioux team took two out of three from Pi Kappa Alpha, and the PE Majors took two from the ROTC. All table tennis parings and deadlines are posted on the PE locker room bulletin board.

Merry Christmas

The Omahans will revolve around Fred Shinrock whose right arm has pated the OU machine and given the lanky junior a fast start in the '53-54 campaign. Don Claussen, Bob Mackie and Bob Moscrey should tie down three of the starting positions with the remaining slot a question mark. The Indians showed good bench strength against Doane, led by Tom Mosiman and Gary Whiteman, after a slow beginning.

A rematch with Wayne State and Colorado State of Greeley are on the Omaha vacation agenda. OU will travel to Wayne Dec. 14 to try for its second victory of the season over Teachers after winning Dec. 2 in an overtime 6-66. Colorado State visits the OU floor on Saturday, Dec. 19, for the first time in recent years.

After the Christmas holidays, the Indians will travel to Morningside for a Jan. 4 date. In early season action, the Maroons were dumped by Wayne 104-98 in an overtime but the work of Sam Long, Bill Norman and Bob Hussey stood out in defeat.

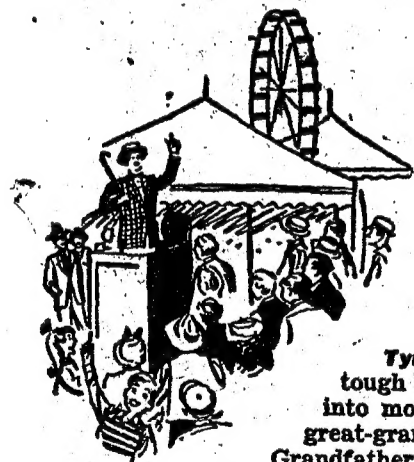

Midland will provide the first post-vacation opposition on the home floor to complete the two-game series in which Omaha topped the first 78-56.

Including the Alumni game, OU has averaged 67.67 points per game while holding the opposition to an even 54-point average.

Yelkin on TV

Head basketball coach Virgil Yelkin will appear on the televised series of National Professional League Basketball games which starts Saturday, Dec. 12, on Station WOW-TV, Channel 6, at 1:30 p. m.

Yelkin will appear with WOW-TV Sports Director Jack Payne between halves of the games, discussing the day's game.

Panel Members Express Christmas Beliefs, Hopes

Sometimes the true meaning of Christmas appears to be covered over by all the tinsel and ornament symbols of the season. The four members of the Panel of Americans express their personal Christmas beliefs and hopes for other's joys.

"On Christmas we can be thankful that we have the privilege of living in a nation such as ours. The concept of peace on earth which is prevalent at this time could mean more to every American if he would, throughout the year, practice all these Christmas concepts," believes Terry Young, senior biology major.

Becky Chartier's holiday message is, "Christmas is the time of lighted candles. To me their flames signify the joy and hope that were given to mankind. My Christmas wish is that each person let his light glow in the darkened paths that other men fled." Miss Chartier, a sophomore, is a sociology major.

Louis Radcliffe says, "In addition to being the most friendly, gayest time of the year, it is the season when we celebrate the birth of Christ. Perhaps we all should remember that more often." Radcliffe is a sophomore, majoring in speech.

"I think everything has been said about Christmas. Now if people would only listen and practice the ideals throughout the year, then the spirit would mean more," wishes Marcia Morris, sophomore speech major.

Business Machines Seminar Scheduled

Advanced accounting students will be given instruction on putting their knowledge to practical use at the Machines Systems Seminar Jan. 6-13.

The Omaha office of the National Cash Register Company will send a representative to OU to demonstrate and explain the application of machines to accounting methods in various businesses. Since equipment in the accounting department here is limited, this will be an excellent opportunity for all advanced students interested.

Any senior, junior or sophomore who is in advanced accounting classes, or has been, may attend any of the three sections each day. The sections will be held at 9 and 10 a. m. and 1 a. m. in room 209 each of the five days.

Fifteenth TV Series Features Shakespeare

Shakespearean plays will mark the fifteenth TV Classroom series beginning December 21. Dr. Ralph Wardle, head of the English department, covers five plays in his television debut series.

Dr. Wardle's class, English 210TV Shakespearean plays, will last until January 29. The course covers five plays, "Romeo and Juliet," "Henry IV," part one; "Twelfth Night," "Hamlet" and "The Tempest."

About one play will be covered each week in the five and a half week course. Final examination is during the first week in February.

The course appears on KMTV, channel three, at 3:30 to 3:45 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Anyone who desires to enter the course may pay the $9 entrance fee which entitles him to a list of test questions, the key to the answers, and enrolls him in the course for one credit hour. It also allows him to take the examination.

Campus Presidents Attend Council, Prexy Discussion

Campus organization presidents were invited to the Student Council meeting Monday as a part of the monthly prexy party.

The meeting, scheduled for 3 p. m., did not get started immediately as a quorum was not present. Upon convening, the Council discussed routine business.

During the prexy meeting, plans to establish school tradition and ways to better acquaint freshmen with school policies were discussed.

Jeerry Tannahill moved that a recommendation be submitted to the Council to appoint a committee to investigate Freshmen indoctrination and report back at the January prexy party.

Jim Klein, president of Theta Chi fraternity, was chairman of the meeting. Refreshments were served. Chairman for the January meeting will be Sheila Schwid, president of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

Lit Mag Will Continue Sales After Vacation

Sales of "Grain of Sand" will continue after Christmas vacation. This school year's first edition of the literary magazine may be purchased in the bookstore for 45 cents.

Narrative stories, plays and poetry by nine University students appear in the magazine. The editorial board, composed of English writing majors, plans a spring edition.
